

Glory be to You, O Allah.

You are the One called upon in every language, the One sought in every moment, the One who surrounds all creation.

You honored us with Your gentle favors and blessed us with the gift of Ramadan.

Our Lord, You are the One whom all creation remembers.

Even the thunder praises You, and everything in existence glorifies You and bows before You.

O Allah, send Your peace and blessings upon Your Prophet and beloved.

Our Lord, we ask You for the knowledge of those who truly fear You, and the awe of those who truly know You.

We ask You for the certainty of those who trust You completely, and the reliance of those whose hearts are firm in You.

We ask You for the humility of those who turn back to You, and the sincerity of those who constantly return to You.

We ask You to grant us gratitude in times of ease, and patience in times of hardship.

And we ask You to join us with those who are alive and honored in Your presence.

O Allah, make us among those who are thankful for Your blessings, patient through Your tests, supportive of Your righteous servants. Do not deprive us of the goodness that is with You.

Glory be to You, O Allah. There is no god but You. Truly, we have been among those who have wronged themselves.

O Allah, we seek Your help, we place our trust in You, we ask Your forgiveness, and we turn back to You.

Whatever You have decreed for us, grant us strength, contentment, and patience with it.

Whatever You have given us, grant us gratitude, praise, and thankfulness for it.

Write us among the people of well-being and protection.

O Allah, grant us a good ending in all our affairs. Protect us from disgrace in this world and punishment in the Hereafter.

We ask You for ease that is never followed by hardship, wealth that is never followed by poverty, safety that is never followed by fear.

We ask You for faith that truly settles deep in our hearts.

O Allah, protect us and all Muslims from every trial.

Grant us relief from every hardship.

Correct what is open in our lives and what is hidden.

Cleanse our hearts from hatred and jealousy.

Do not let us carry the burden of wrongdoing toward anyone.

Our Lord, You free people from the Fire every single night.

O Allah, make us tonight among those You free, among those You love, among those who are truly blessed.

O Allah, protect the faces of all those present from the Fire.

Write us among Your chosen and righteous servants.

O Mighty One, O Most Forgiving.
